

INCIDENT MANAGEMENT SITUATION REPORT

 This report will only be posted on fridays during the off fire season!!

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 24, 1995 - 1000 MST
 NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS LEVEL I

Current Situation: Fire activity remained low in most areas, except the Southern Area.

OUTLOOK: High pressure aloft over the western US will weaken some by Saturday before rebuilding for the remainder of the week. A few showers are possible for northern California during the weekend. The rest of California and the desert Southwest should remain dry. Temperatures will continue to be at or above normal. Saturday through Monday will bring some moderate winds to the higher terrain of northern California and northern Arizona. High temperatures through Tuesday will range from the upper 50's in the mountains to the 80's in the deserts and along the southern California coast. Wednesday through Friday will bring above normal temperatures and no precipitation.

FIRES: For 11/17 through 11/22
